Accordingly, the first human being has to use the oxygen outside for growth. In recent years, beside the inhalation of oxygen, the consumption of oxygen has been applied to the development of medicine in order to enhance the development of human body. The method for enhancing the development of human body by consumptive use of oxygen uses the difference of oxidation-reduction potential of human body and oxygen. Accordingly, the advantage of the method is that it can enhance the blood circulation in human body and increase the effectiveness of medicine to human body without any physical exercises. The oxygen to increase the effectiveness of medicine of consumptive use is the oxygen with higher concentration. As the oxygen concentration is higher, the effectiveness of medicine is higher. Hence, a user uses the oxygen with higher concentration. Recently, there is an attempt to improve the effectiveness of medicine by the interaction of human body and the oxygen when the human body is growing. Referring to FIG. 1, it depicts a conventional product
